What is this all about?

This gathering is a “step one” in a multi-step process. This process will guide our plan to help reduce substance abuse in our community. We want your thoughts on what you, as a community, think the priority substances are.

We will be using data to 1) carefully consider which substances are directly impacting our community right now, and 2) what substances we stand the greatest chance of reducing. Please take a look at the data online. Go to: www.franklinnh.org and click on the Drug Task Force button at the bottom of the homepage to reach our website. On our homepage under the header “Local Data” you will find links to recent local data reports.

We won't be focusing on solutions for this first piece of a much larger conversation and there will be no blaming.
